Bible Reading: Colossians 1:15-20

When the astronaut, Jim Irwin, spent days on the moon, he found the experience deeply spiritual. The same thing happened to Buzz Aldrin, the second person to land on the moon. Aldrin famously took communion on the moon with the bread and the wine that he brought from earth. The letter to the Colossians says that God has reconciled all things, in heaven and on earth, in and through Christ. In other words, both heaven and earth are joined together in Christ. This means that the spiritual can no longer be separated from the material. There is no part in the material world, even the remotest part, that cannot be reached by God. In Jesus Christ, heaven is no longer a faraway time or place. In Jesus Christ, heaven has come down to earth; heaven has infiltrated our world. Christ is the King of the universe, the whole universe. So let us not compartmentalize what God has united.

(Rev. Toby Keva)

WELCOMERS AND GREETERS

There is a change starting at the beginning of August to those on the Welcome Roster. You will notice that we now have one person assigned as a “Welcomer” and one assigned as a “Greeter”. Both people will be located in the foyer at the Caprice Place entrance. The people known as the Welcomers will be specifically looking out for visitors/ newcomers to our church. These people have volunteered for this role and have been briefed on their duties. They will also assist the Greeters. The Greeters will welcome people and provide hand sanitiser (if requested) and paper copies of the newsletter. The Herald Avenue door will be open, but no one will be stationed there. This was the situation prior to Covid. Parking in the car park at the rear of the church may be a better option with these changes occurring. Thank you.
